

RECREATION AND OPEN SPACE ELEMENT

Element Overview

The City of Boca Raton enjoys a level of parks development and recreational amenities not typical of many communities in South Florida. Boca Raton's extensive natural beach parks and numerous district, community and neighborhood parks are among the City's most valued assets.

The City's Recreation and Open Space Element is a long-range planning tool used to guide future decision-making with regard to parks planning and development. Essentially, the Recreation and Open Space Element addresses the supply and demand for recreation in the City of Boca Raton. The Element consists of three goals:

- To provide a well-rounded, functional, and aesthetic park and recreation system to satisfy the health, safety, and welfare needs of citizens and visitors of the city.
- To increase the efficiency of use and reduce the overall cost of development of recreation facilities.
- To provide a functional and aesthetic open space system to satisfy the health, safety, and welfare needs of the community.
